

AHOFADI

A message to the Afurakani/Afuraitkaitnit (African) healer/healeress

Freedom Is Free

We were conversing with an individual who was initiated into the priesthood of an Afurakani/Afuraitkaitnit (African) Ancestral Religion. We were discussing the prices that some healers/healeresses/teachers charge for products and services. The individual, the “initiate” of the priesthood said, and we quote:

Niggas don't respect shit unless you make 'em pay for it.

This kind of mindset is pervasive in certain segments of the “cultural” community. It, in all truth, is a carry-over from enslavement – make the “niggas” pay. The reality is that while some of our people are caught up in the notion that, “if it's expensive it must be worth something”, most of our people are not. Those who are simply betray their conditioning. That conditioning must be broken—not fed.

Like red blood cells, there are those in the Afurakani/Afuraitkaitnit (African) community (body) who are compelled to bring/disseminate information, publications, programs, divination, healing (nutrients) to the people (cells) within our community (body). This compulsion streams from the same Spiritual Source of Which the red blood cells derive their compulsion to act. This compulsion is thus properly identified as Divine and Ancestral. Such a compulsion therefore does not lend itself to wielding the energy contained within it to exploit the community for the highest possible price. While this is the manner in which the whites and their offspring, our enemies, conduct “business”— it is not our way. It is not the way of Nyamewaa-Nyame Nhyehyee (Divine Order).

There must be a balance between that which we transmit which is free and that which we receive in compensation.

Give what you can to the Afurakani/Afuraitkaitnit (African) community (body) freely and receive just compensation for what you cannot afford to release for free.

This is a component part of the Afurakani/Afuraitkaitnit (African) paradigm. This paradigm unearths the natural sense of inter-connectedness shared by Afurakani/Afuraitkaitnit (African) people through our mogya, abatumm ne sunsum (spirit, melanin and blood).

It breaks up the foolish conditioning that controls some of our peoples' asunsum (spirits), "If it's free or cheap it must not be worth anything", for it returns/restores the common-spiritual-sense which orbits the core of Afurakani/Afuraitkaitnit (African) consciousness.

We have received numerous communications from Afurakanu/Afuraitkaitnut (Africans) showing a deep respect and value for the services and products that we release for free. Such a sincere outpouring of gratitude is the foundation of support for our endeavors.

We can no longer hold hostage every single bit of healing information we have to publish and teach, every single healing service we have to provide, for ransom—while the whites and their offspring are saturating every single medium of communication, print, audio and visual, with free and perverse misinformation 24-7. Wake up.

Give freely what you can

Receive justly when you need

This is balance. You will witness a recalibration of the attitudes within your supporters in particular and within our populace in general. Your support (what you receive) will be mirrored by, balanced by, what you transmit (what you give). We as Afurakanu/Afuraitkaitnut (Africans) then value each other. We then respect those deserving of respect and reject those deserving of rejection. Our innate compulsion towards Amansesew, Afurakani/Afuraitkaitnit Nationbuilding/Restoration, then resurfaces.

Ahofadi. Freedom. The fountainhead of Nyansa, Wisdom, Revolution-Resolution.
