NOTE ON THE TERM \textit{NGG WR} OR \textit{NGNG WR} IN \textit{KAMIT}
\textit{NGG Ur} is not ‘\textit{Nigger}’ Part 1

\textbf{THE ORIGIN OF THE TERM ‘GOD’}

NOTE ON THE TERM \textit{NGG WR} OR \textit{NGNG WR} IN \textit{KAMIT} \textit{NGG Ur} is not ‘\textit{nigga}’ – Part 2

\textbf{NEHESU – NEGUS – NKOSO}

\textit{Negus} is not ‘\textit{nigga}’

\textbf{RA Akha – NANKA – NAGA}

\textit{Naga} is not ‘\textit{nigga}’

\textbf{ODWIRAFU KWESI RA NEHEM PTAH AKHAN}
There is a great deal of misinformation being propagated in the Afurakan/Afuraitkaitnit (African~Black) community regarding the etymological origins of the terms ‘nigger’, ‘nigga’, ‘naga’, ‘negus’ and ‘god’. There are individuals in the Afurakan/Afuraitkaitnit (African) community who propagate this information out of ignorance, attempting to conflate the derogatory term ‘nigger’ and its variation ‘nigga’ with ancient terms from Kamit (Egypt), Harrapa (Ancient Black India) and Ethiopia.

Because of a lack of self-esteem programmed into the spirits of Afurakanu/Afuraitkaitnut (Africans) by the whites and their offspring – the spirits of disorder/our absolute enemies – some individuals desire to make the derogatory label ‘nigger’ a pseudo-‘divine’ label meaning ‘god’. This allows the individual with low self-esteem to make themselves ‘feel good’ on the surface, while affording them the opportunity to continue to be defined by the whites and their offspring whom they still view as superior to them. This is one of the many manifestations of the pathology of enslavement still present within the spirits of our people. It is absolutely no different than skin-bleaching, hair straightening, cosmetic surgery to obtain white facial features, etc.

The whites and their offspring (white americans, europeans, hispanics, pseudo-‘native’-americans, asians, hindus, arabs, etc.) incarnate as spirits of disorder – all of them – and are therefore spiritually and physiologically inferior to all Afurakanu/Afuraitkaitnut (Africans~Black People). Our lack of attunement to this spiritual and physical reality is a result of the blunting of our perception when we embrace white cultural values. We therefore seek to protect ourselves and empower ourselves by ‘claiming’ and ‘redefining’ the labels of inferiority forced upon us by the whites and their offspring as opposed to simply rejecting them. We therefore have misinformed individuals ‘fighting’ for the right to make ‘nigga’ a title of ‘divinity’, while simultaneously the pseudo-scholar, agents of the whites and their offspring in our community propagate this misinformation in order to keep Afurakanu/Afuraitkaitnut (Africans) spiritually enslaved, unaware of our identity and therefore unaware of our true enemies and how we must confront them.

We initially published the articles and the appendix in this publication separately. We have combined them here for ease of study and distribution. Anidaho is an Akan term meaning awareness. It literally means the eye (ani) lies upon (da) the self (ho). We must have awareness of who we are, who our enemies are and how they and their agents exploit our ignorance to keep us enslaved. Only then can we reorganize and move against them effectively.

Odwirafo Kwesi Ra Nehem Ptah Akhan
Aakuhamuman Amaruka Atifi Mu
(Akwamu Nation in North America)
www.odwirafo.com
July, 13014 (2014)
Note on the term Ngg Wr or Ngng Wr in Kamit

Ngg Ur is not ‘Nigger’ – Part 1

ODWIRAFO

www.odwirafo.com
NOTE ON THE TERM NGG WR OR NGNG WR IN KAMIT

NGG UR IS NOT ‘NIGGER’ – PART 1

The terms Ngg, Nga, Ngg Wr, Ngng Wr or Ngaga Wr have been promoted as the etymological origin of the word ‘nigger’ and thus associated with the false notion that ‘nigger’ actually means ‘god’. This false conception can be clarified when we look at another common form of the term Ngng Wr which is GnGn Wr.
As we can see Ngg Wr and Ngng Wr and Negaga Wr are identical to Ggn Wr. This is because the term is actually pronounced Nganga (in-gahn’-gah). Gangan or Ganga and Nganga are the same term. The ‘wr’ (ur) is descriptive title meaning ‘the Great’.
Nga (in-gah’) means ‘to cackle’ or ‘to quack’. It is also a title meaning ‘cackler’. Nga or Ngga Wr means the ‘Great Cackler’.

In the cosmology of Kamit at Ta Apet (‘thebes’), it is revealed that the Great Divine Nganga (Cackler, Goose) in the form of the Great Ntotoro (Ntr/Deity) Amen ‘cackles’ at the beginning of Creation and causes the primordial waters of Nun and Naunet to begin to vibrate. The primordial waters of Nun and Naunet, within the Great Black Substance of Space (Kaka and Kauket or Ka and Kait) ultimately give birth to Ra and Rait, the Creator and Creatress who manifest as Fire and Light piercing through the Blackness and eventually manifesting through the Aten (Sun).

What is key here is that the ‘cackling’, ‘quacking’ or production of sound waves/vibrations/power set in motion movement/transmission of energy within Nun and Naunet, the energetic substratum from which Ra and Rait, the Creator and Creatress and ultimately all created entities would emerge. This notion and the terminology referencing it continue to be used by Afurakanu/Afuraitkaitnut (Africans) today. The Bakongo people are an example. In the Kikongo language, the term nganga means a ‘master’, referencing a ‘healer’. From: Self-Healing Power and Therapy by K. Kia Bunseki Fu-Kiau – pages 18-19:

http://books.google.com/books?id=MdRAVFieYgYC&pg=PA3&lpg=PA3&dq=nganga,+self+healing+power&source=bl&ots=zd74e_ZZpp&sig=qjYf87ELbUHbBxXpCscEgW36iAk&hl=en&sa=X&ei=RBvSUZLVILOq4APM_oHQBg&ved=0CDMQ6AEwAQ#v=onepage&q=ghanda&f=false “….Ghanda (“to be initiated”) is to join the circle of nganga (“masters”) and become oneself, nganga, a doer. Nganga of the archaic verbal root ghanga, of which the modern form is vanga (to do, to make, to act, to realize) is a m’vangi, i.e., an individual of deeds (mavanga).....It is earned by merit by enduring proofs of initiation, ku kanga, at the initiation institution site.

Through Ku kanga or kongo, one learns to discover one’s own sun or package of life, its power and radiations: the genetically, spiritually and physically inherited strength of self-healing power. Once at ku kanga or kongo, the “candidate” must learn to speak the language of kinganga [ki-nganga], a specialized language. Without knowledge of this sophisticated language spoken by initiator-masters....one may find it hard to digest the sophisticated knowledge taught in these institutions of initiation.
Because of the lack of printed material, teaching constituted passing down of key principles of life through bikumu (“repeated mottoes”) ngana (“proverbs”).

[Emphasis ours.. Note the connection between the Kikongo Nganga and Ghanga. This is found in ancient Kamit as Nganga and Gangan]

The Nganga is typically recognized in ritual contexts to be a healer, medicine person, one who can call on the Spirits of the Deities (Divine Forces in Creation). The Nganga’s ritual efficacy is dependent most often upon the Nganga’s ability to make proper ritual invocations/prayers/chanting. This is true of Afurakani/Afuraitkaitnit (African) Traditional Healers/Healeresses in general. Proper, effective invocatory chanting moves the energy of the Forces in Creation and opens the way for transformation to occur. Indeed, the word ‘chant’ has etymological origins in ‘kan’ and the gan of ancient Kamit (Also see: ka (pronounced with a ‘nasal’ ‘A’) - to speak and kankye - to pray in the Twi language of Akan).

Moreover, the sacred proverbial wisdom of the Bakongo, ngana, mentioned in the quote above, are an archive of the key principles of life. Hence the term gan (gn) meaning archive in Kamit:

It should also be noted that Amen takes the form of a Divine Goose and Cackles, emits the Sacred Sound vibrations, at the onset of Creation. Technically, Amen takes the form of the Gander (male Goose) while the Great Ntorot (Ntrt/Deity/Goddess) Amenet takes form of the Goose as Gan Writ:

It is Amenet as the Female Goose who lays the Cosmic Egg from which Ra and Rait will be born. Amen and Amenet function Together as One Divine Unit, the Supreme Being.

As Nganga or Gan Gan Wr or Ngaga Wr, Amen takes the form of a Gander in order to ‘Cackle, Quack’, as opposed to a serpent. [The Naga serpents of the Tamil speaking Afurakanu/Afuraitkaitnut (Africans) of ancient India are actually the Ra Akh or Raakha serpents. The ‘rolling ‘R’ and the ‘N’ interchange linguistically. Ra and Rait are subordinate to Amen and Amenet. See our Nyankopon and Nyankonton – Ra and Rait article for details: http://www.odwirafo.com/Nyankopon_and_Nyankonton-Ra_and_Rait.pdf]

As we can see, the cosmological and etymological root of the term Nganga Wr or Ngga Wr or GnGn Wr is gan. Ngg Ur is not nigger. The term nigger, said to be derived through negro, necro from the proto-indo-european root nekw or nek referencing ‘dead, dark, night’ etc., actually has its origins in the terms Neq, Neqr, Nequa, Nek and related terms in Kamit:
night (n.)

Old English niht (West Saxon neaht, Anglian naeht, neht) "night, darkness;" the vowel indicating that the modern word derives from oblique cases (genitive nihte, dative niht), from Proto-Germanic nakht- (cf. Old Saxon and Old High German naht, Old Frisian and Dutch naacht, German Nacht, Old Norse natt, Gothic nahts).

The Germanic words are from PIE nekw-*"night" (cf. Greek nuks "a night," Latin nox, Old Irish nochd, Sanskrit naktaṁ "at night," Lithuanian naktis "night," Old Church Slavonic nosti, Russian noch’, Welsh henoid "tonight"), according to Watkins, probably from a verbal root neg- "to be dark, be night." For spelling with -gh see fight.

The fact that the Aryans have a common name for night, but not for day (q.v.), is due to the fact that they reckoned by nights. [Weekley]

Cf. German Weihnachten "Christmas." In early times, the day was held to begin at sunset, so Old English mōnannīht "Monday night" was the night before Monday, or what we would call Sunday night.

To work nights preserves the Old English genitive of time. Night shift is attested from 1710 in the sense of "garment worn by a woman at night" (see shift (n.1)); meaning "gang of workers employed after dark" is from 1839. Night soil "excrement" (1770) is so called because it was removed (from cesspools, etc.) after dark. Night train attested from 1838. Night life "habitual nocturnal carousing" attested from 1852.

necro-

\[
\text{neqr} \quad \overline{\text{}}} \quad \overline{\text{}} \quad \overline{\text{}}, \quad \text{Rec. 5, 86, 16, 159, to sift ; Copt. ṩρκερ (?)}
\]

\[
\text{neqem} \quad \overline{\text{}} \quad \overline{\text{}} \quad \overline{\text{}} \quad \overline{\text{}}, \quad \text{T. 12,}
\]

\[
\text{Metternich Stele 3, to be afflicted, to mourn, to grieve, to lament.}
\]

\[
\text{neqmu} \quad \overline{\text{}} \quad \overline{\text{}} \quad \overline{\text{}} \quad \overline{\text{}}, \quad \text{mourners, afflicted ones.}
\]

\[
\text{neqeb} \quad \overline{\text{}} \quad \overline{\text{}} \quad \overline{\text{}} \quad \overline{\text{}}, \quad \text{Metternich Stele 6, to mourn, to be afflicted.}
\]
These terms are related to the dead body, corpse, death, the treatment of the body in a negative fashion, etc. [The terms negro and necro is addressed in Part 2.]
THE ORIGIN OF THE TERM ‘GOD’

NOTE ON THE TERM NGG WR OR NGNG WR IN KAMIT

NGg Ur is not ‘nigga’ – Part 2

ODWIRAFO

www.odwirafo.com
THE ORIGIN OF THE TERM ‘GOD’

NOTE ON THE TERM NGG WR OR NGNG WR IN KAMIT

Ngg Ur is not ‘nigga’ – Part 2

In Part 1 of our Note on the Origin of the Term Ngg Wr or Ngng Wr in Kamit we demonstrated that the title Ngg Wr or Ngg Ur is actually the term Gngn Wr:

We demonstrated the that proper pronunciation is Nganga (in-gahn’-gah) and Gangan (gahn’-gahn) and is still used by the Bakongo people today as a title for a ritual specialist/healer – nganga. The ‘N’-sound is a nasal prefix, thus Gangan can be pronounced and written nGangan (in-gahn’-gahn). The root of the term is Ga or Gan (Gn).

The root term ga (gah’ or gahn’ ) also pronounced with the ‘N’ as a nasal prefix nga (in-gah’ ) means ‘to cackle’ in reference to a Divine Goose or Gander, but specifically meaning to emit sound vibrations. The ‘a’ in ga is ‘nasal’ and this is why the term was written ga or gan – the metut (hieroglyph) for the letter ‘n’ the wavy water/energy metut representing the nasal ‘N’ pronunciation (“NNN”). The term ‘ga’ pronounced with a nasal ‘a’ thus sounds like ‘gan’.

[Notice that the term is actually spelled n-g-a-g-a (in-gah’gah)or n-g-a (in-gah’). The ‘egyptologist’ inserted an ‘e’ because of uncertainty of how the term was pronounced.]

As we stated in Part 1 of the series:

“…Nga (in-gah’) means ‘to cackle’ or ‘to quack’. It is also a title meaning ‘cackler’. Nga or Ngga Wr means the ‘Great Cackler’.

In the cosmology of Kamit at Ta Apet (‘thebes’), it is revealed that the Great Divine Nganga (Cackler, Goose) in the form of the Great Ntoro (Ntr/Deity) Amen ‘cackles’ at the beginning of Creation and causes the primordial waters of Nun and Naunet to begin to vibrate. The primordial waters of Nun and Naunet, within the Great Black Substance of Space (Kaka and Kauket or Ka and Kait) ultimately give birth to Ra and Rait, the Creator and Creatress who manifest as Fire and Light piercing through the Blackness and eventually manifesting through the Aten (Sun).

What is key here is that the ‘cackling’, ‘quacking’ or production of sound waves/vibrations/power set in motion movement/transmission of energy within Nun and Naunet, the energetic substratum from which Ra and Rait, the Creator and Creatress and ultimately all created entities would emerge…”

From the Temple of Heb (Hibis) – Columns 23-24 – Hymn to Amen:

“…Your ancient throne is the highland (gait/kait) of Khemenu, it is from the lake of Two Knives that you reach land. It is from the water surface that you appear in the hidden egg, Amenet being with you…”

From the so-called Leiden Papyrus I 350, chapter 90 regarding Amen:
“…Light was His coming into existence on the first occasion, with all that exists in stillness for awe of Him. He [Amen] cackled by voice, as the Great Cackler, coming into a land that He created for Himself…

He began speaking in the midst of silence, opening every eye and causing them to look. He began crying out while the world was in stillness, His yell circulated while He had none like Him, so that He might give birth to what is and cause them to live, and cause every man to know the way to walk. Their hearts live when they see Him…”

From the Leiden Papyrus I 350 Chapter 100:

“…The One who initiated existence on the first occasion, Amen, who developed in the beginning, whose origin is unknown.

No Deity came into being prior to Him. No other Deity was with Him who could say what He looked like. He had no mother who created His name. He had no father to beget Him or to say: "This belongs to me." He Who formed His own egg. Power of secret birth, who created His (own) beauty...

Amenet and Amen

Gagait and Gaga; Gagait Urit and Gangan Ur; Ngaga Writ and Ngangan Wr

Amen and Amenet are the Great Father and Great Mother, Whom Together comprise The Supreme Being. When Amen and Amenet began the act of gaga or gangan (cackling, honking), the primordial waters of the Black Substance of Space, the unformed Matter, began to vibrate. A separation took place as the Divine Egg was formed within the Great Divine Goose, Amenet. She laid the Divine Egg from which emerged the Aten (Sun) through which Ra and Rait, the Creator and Creatress were born and emerged. Ra and Rait are the Creator and Creatress, the first Fire and Light to pierce the primordial darkness at the beginning of Creation separating dark from light and eventually morning from night.

Sacred Goose and Gander of Amen and Amenet

“...The word goose is a direct descendent of Proto-Indo-European root, “ghans-“. In Germanic languages, the root gave Old English gös with the plural gös and gandres (becoming Modern English goose, geese, and gander, respectively), New High German Gans, Gänse, and Ganter, and Old Norse gös. This term also gave Lithuanian žąsis, Irish gé (goose, from Old Irish géiss), Latin anser, Greek χήν, Albanian gatë (heron), Sanskrit hamsa and hamsi, Finnish hanhi, Avestan zāō, Polish ges, Russian rycs, Czech husa, and Persian ghāz...” [Wikipedia – Goose]

Note that the etymological origin of the term ‘goose’ is falsely posited by the whites and their offspring to be derived from the proto-indo-european root ‘ghans’. Of course, the true origin is Gan, the ‘cackler’, from ancient Kamit and Khanit.

Amen and Amenet, Gagait Wr and Gangan Wr in the primordial waters before Creation “...Observe the actions of the geese. When they reach maturity (about three years old), the male tends to be more dominant and aggressive than the female, especially in mating season. The male is more protective of the nesting area as well. Listen to the sounds of geese, the male goose lets out a high-pitched honking sound to attract the female when they are ready to mate while female lets out a low-toned quack when she is ready to mate...”

The cackling, honking or quacking – the gaga or gangan – is related to mating. When Amenet and Amen as Gagait and Gaga (Gangan) were ready to mate in order to Create the Universe, Amen, the Great (Wr) Gangan began to ‘ga’ – ‘cackle’, ‘honk’, ‘cry out’ and Amenet, the Great (Writ) Gagait responded. The sound vibrations caused the waters of the womb within the Great Mother Amenet to vibrate as Nun and Naunet. These dark waters are of the Black Substance of Space called ‘dark energy’ and ‘dark matter’ by physicists which makes up over 99% of the Universe. Amenet then produced the Divine Egg out of which the Aten (Sun) would emerge.

The root of Gangan is ga and gai. As the Great Cackler, Gangan Wr, Amen invokes (calls from within) His own Creative Power. Chanting (‘cackling’) is the original invocation.
The term ga also means to sing. gaua means to sing; to praise and gangar means to sing. This praise/song is ritual invocation. The determinative metut of the man raising his hands in the air is an act of ritually provoking (invoking) the energy of the Deity, in this instance via ritual song (sound vibrations, gngn). This metut is the determinative metut for words describing prayer, praise, ritual practice. Note that the term gangar is written in Coptic (Late Kamit dialect) as knkn or gengen: Copt. 𓁦𓁡𓁱, 𓁱𓁡𓁱. This is why in the Akan language the terms ka and kankye (the ‘a’ being nasal in both) mean to emit a sound, to speak and to pray, to invoke a Deity.

The term ga meaning to cry out again has the variation gan (gn, gen) meaning to cry out, beseech, petition, while the ganu (bird, goose) is a variation of gan (gn):

Moreover, the same terms gai and gnu (gnu) also reference pots, vessels and pouring.
The related term gash meaning to spill, to pour out, to sprinkle, a pouring out, inundation is the origin of the English term 'gush' meaning to pour out, inundate, etc. However, the root is gai. Notice the two lips of the gai (vessel) with the wavy line for water/energy being poured out function as the determinative metut (hieroglyph) for gash and gai:

The two lips of the vessel (gai, gn) releasing water/energy as ‘gai’ are related to the two lips releasing the invocation ‘ga’ or ‘gan’ when ‘crying out’, ‘petitioning’ and with regard to Amenet and Amen ‘cackling’ – Ga or Gan.

The wavy water/energy pouring out from the lips is related to the energy activated in the waters of the Blackness of Space, the waters of Nun and Naunet, when they are stimulated by the gaga or gangan (cackling) of Amenet and Amen and the onset of Creation. The invocation of Amenet and Amen is a release of energy – a pouring out of energy necessary for the birthing of the Universe.

This is why Amenet and Amen as Gn Ur (Gangan Wr) and Gn Urit (Gagait Writ) are referred to also as the God and Goddess of Offerings.
Certainly, the pouring out of the seed of the male (seminal fluid) and the release of blood of the female carrying the ovum, are a replication of this cosmological, foundational function of conception and creation. The white ‘blood’ (seminal fluid) and red blood (carrying the ovum) are the blood offerings, sacrifice, given by the mother and father in order to bring an Ancestral Spirit back into the physical world via conception. [Union of the red and white crown in Kamit and the union of Mogya and Ntoro in Akan.]

The cosmological foundation of these functions of pouring and invocation are critical, for they are the origin of the term ‘god’:

god (n.)

Old English god "supreme being, deity; the Christian God; image of a god; godlike person," from Proto-Germanic *guthan (cf. Old Saxon, Old Frisian, Dutch god, Old High German got, German Gott, Old Norse guð, Gothic guþ), from PIE *ghut- "that which is invoked" (cf. Old Church Slavonic zovo "to call," Sanskrit huta- "invoked," an epithet of Indra), from root *gheu(e)- "to call, invoke."

But some trace it to PIE *ghu-to- "poured," from root *gheu- "to pour, pour a libation" (source of Greek khein "to pour," also in the phrase khute gaia "poured earth," referring to a burial mound; see found (v.2)). "Given the Greek facts, the Germanic form may have referred in the first instance to the spirit immanent in a burial mound" [Watkins]. Cf. also Zeus.

Notice that the whites and their offspring trace the origin of the word ‘god’ to two possible proto-indo-european roots:

Gheu (geu) meaning: to pour, pour a libation

Gheue (geue) meaning: to call, invoke

The whites and their offspring are unsure of why the roots gheue and gheu would have anything to do with pouring and at the same time something to do with invoking (calling). This is because they stole the term from ancient Afuraka/Afuraitkait (Africa) and claimed it as their own (‘proto-indo-european’).

It is in our culture where we find the cosmological infrastructure which gives birth to these terms. The terms gheu and gheue (goeh and goeh) are merely corruptions of Ga and Ga – meaning to pour, pour out a libation and to invoke, cry out. The ‘a’ is ‘nasal’. Thus Amen is Gaga or Gangan the Great Gan or Great God. Amenet is Gagait the Great Gagait or Gad-es (Gait-s/Goddess). Ga or Gan, became Gheu, Ghaeut, Got, Gad, and God.

Amen is literally the Great Gan (Gad/god) – Amen Gan Wr

This is the reason that the name Amen is invoked at the end of prayers in the false religions of christianity, islam (amin) and judaism. The name was stolen by the whites and their offspring and falsely redefined as a term meaning ‘so be it’.
It is important to note that in the [Twi language of the Akan of Ghana and Ivory Coast we have two important terms:

gu to pour, to sprinkle [hwie gu, to pour a libation; nsgu liquor (nsa) pouring (gu) pouring libation with liquor as opposed to water]

go (agoo) an invocation, an announcement before one enters a house; a call for attention

In Akan culture when one is about to enter a dwelling, one can knock, but they also cry out, ‘Agoo’ – ‘May I have your attention, I am here’. The response by those within the dwelling to acknowledge the individual is ‘Amen’ (also spelled Amee with the nasal ‘ee’ pronunciation). This same formula is used when one attempts to get the attention of a large or noisy crowd. It is a call to Order. An individual will thus cry out, ‘Agoo’ in the midst of of a large noisy crowd. The crowd is thereby alerted to quiet down and pay attention because something important is about to be said. The crowd then responds by saying ‘Amen’ – ‘We are listening, we submit, you have our attention.’

Yet, this formula is first and foremost used ritually. Before any important task, meeting, function, etc. Akan people engage in the ritual of pouring libation. This is true of many Afurakanu/Afuraitkaïnut (Africans). In Akan culture, before pouring the liquid the officiant cries out ‘Agoo’, ‘Agoo’, ‘Agoo’. This is an invocation to the Mother and Father Supreme Being Nyamewaa-Nyame (Nyamewaa is Ny-Ament-waa while Nyame is Ny-Amen), the Abosom (Deities), an evocation to the Nananom Nsamanfo (Spiritually Cultivated, Honorable Ancestresses and Ancestors) and the community. The community then responds by saying, ‘Amen’, ‘Amen’, ‘Amen’. The call and response pattern is: Agoo-Amen. Agoo-Amen. Agoo-Amen. The officiant then begins to pour.

What we have in Akan libation is a ritual replication of the Creation of the Universe.

The invocation (goo) is followed by the pouring (gu). This is Amen and Amenet as Gaga Ur and Gagait Urit engaging in the invocation (ga – cackling, crying out) and the pouring out of their Divine Energy (gai – to pour). The cackling of Amenet and Amen is a call to Order the Universe.

This is also why the Akan response to the goo (invocation) and gu (pouring) is AMEN. This is also why the whites and their offspring recognized that the root of the term ‘god’ means ‘pouring’ and ‘invocation’ (gheu and gheue), yet had no understanding of how and why these two terms are related. Our actual, authentic cosmology demonstrates how inextricably related these two terms are – phonetically, conceptually and ritually.

In the language of Kamit, we have the term Ntr meaning ‘Deity’ (male) while Ntrt means ‘Deity’ (female):
Egyptologists are unsure of how the term Ntr was pronounced and therefore placed the ‘e’ in between the consonants. Note that in the Coptic dialect we have the vocalization: NOUTE.

In the Akan language, we find a proper vocalization for the term. Ntr or Ntrt, meaning ‘God’ or ‘Goddess’ is a Divine Spirit-Force in Nature and of Creation. In Akan culture, the term for a Deity, Goddess, God, Divine Spirit Force in Creation is Obosom (singular) and Abosom (plural). The term Bosom is derived from the Kamiti terms Bsu and Msu (See: The Origin of the Term Abosom in Kamit). The Akan designation for an Obosom (Deity) inherited by blood from the Father’s patricircle (patrilineage) is Ntoro [in’-taw-raw]. The Ntoro is therefore referred to as the Egyabosom meaning Father’s (Egya) Deity (Bosom). The term Ntoro is a proper vocalization of Ntr. The feminine version of the term in Akan is Nton (Ntoron) referencing the Abusuabosom – the Obosom (Deity) inherited from the Abusua or Nton (Ntoron) – the Mother’s matricircle (matrilineage).

The Kamiti term Ntr meaning Divine Spirit Force of Nature and Creation was retained in European languages. Ntr is the etymological origin of the term ‘Nature’. As a Divinity this would be Mother Nature.

It is important to note that the terms Ntr, Ga, Gai meaning Deity, to invoke and to pour are three different terms – all three of which exist in the same forms in Kamit and Akan as well as their corruptions in European languages:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Kamit</th>
<th>Ntr</th>
<th>Deity</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Akan</td>
<td>Ntoro</td>
<td>Deity</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>European</td>
<td>Nature</td>
<td>Deity (Mother Nature)</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Kamit</th>
<th>Ga</th>
<th>Invoke</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Akan</td>
<td>Go</td>
<td>Invocation</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>European</td>
<td>Gheue</td>
<td>Invoke</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

| Kamit | Gai | Pour, libation |

21
There is an extant body of misinformation purporting to elucidate the origin of the term ‘Nigger’ (Nigga) by erroneously attempting to trace the roots to Ngg Wr, Neter (Netcher), Negus, Naga or all of the above. There is also an extant body of misinformation regarding the etymology of the the term ‘God’. In this two part series and our related articles, we have given the proper etymologies supported by the cosmological infrastructure in Khanit (Nubia) and Kamit which gave birth to these terms.

Gan is doubled as Gangan, also Ngangan. The root is Gan or Ga. Ga is not the term ‘nigger’. Ntr is Noute in Coptic, Ntoro in Akan and also Tro in Ewe. Ntoto is not the term ‘nigger’.

Negus or Nagas is derived from Nehesu (Nhsu) written Nkoso in Akan. The root is Hs or Hsu (Koso). Hsu or Koso is not the term ‘nigger’. [See our publication entitled: Nehesu-Negus-Nkoso – Negus is not ‘nigga’ for details]

Ra Akhu or Ra Akh is a title of Ra the Creator. This title of Ra is found in Akan as Nanka (Nan ka, Dan ga, Ran ga, Ran ka), Onanka, Odanga, Edanga and Ananga, Nyanka. The rolling ‘R’ and the ‘D’ and ‘N’ interchange. Ananga is Naga in Tamil (India). The root is Ra Aakhu or Ra Akha. Ra Aakhu is not ‘nigger’. [See our publication entitled: NYANKOPON-NYANKONTON – RA-RAIT for details.]

All four of these terms are different and expressive of their own meanings and functions in our cosmology. Most importantly, all four of these terms exist in the same language of ancient Kamit as well as the genetically descendent Akan language and none of them spell out ‘nigger’ or ‘nigga’. These are not different words from different languages around the world all pointing to the term ‘nigga’ meaning ‘god’. They are four different terms from the same language with four different meanings – none of which are ‘nigger’. These terms are still spoken today by the Akan. The roots tell the trusory (true-story, true-history):

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Kamit</th>
<th>Akan</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Gan</td>
<td>Go</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Moreover, the term for the river called ‘Niger’ is not a variation of the word ‘nigger’. The Tuareg people of North, Central and West Afuraka/Afuraitkait (Africa) since ancient times have referred to this river as the gher n gheren. The term gher means ‘river’.

The title gher n gheren means ‘river of rivers’. The root is gher. Some have posited that a fragment of the phrase ‘n gheren’ meaning ‘of rivers’ was corrupted by the whites and their offspring into n-gheren and nigeren, niger because niger already existed in Latin and sounded similar to their corrupted pronunciation of n gheren. The key however is that the root is gher and the Tuareg did not in the past nor do they today refer to the river as the ‘Niger’ in their Ancestral language. The term gher is actually derived from the terms gari and gar meaning ‘stream’ in Kamit:

As we can see, none of the above terms nor their roots actually spell out ‘nigger’ or ‘nigga’. The term nigger is derived from the same root as negro, necro, neg (negate, negative), night:

- nigger (n.): 1786, earlier neger (1568, Scottish and northern England dialect), from French nègre, from Spanish negro (see Negro).

- Negro (n.): “member of a black-skinned race of Africa," 1550s, from Spanish or Portuguese negro "black," from Latin nigrum (nominative niger) "black, dark, sable, dusky," figuratively "gloomy, unlucky, bad, wicked," of unknown origin (perhaps from PIE *nekw-t- "night," cf. Watkins). As an adjective from 1590s. Use with a capital N- became general early 20c. (e.g. 1930 in "New York Times" stylebook) in reference to U.S. citizens of African descent, but because of its perceived association with white-imposed attitudes and roles the word was ousted late 1960s in this sense by Black (q.v.).

- necro-: before vowels, necr-, word-forming element meaning "death, corpse, dead tissue," from comb. form of Greek nekros "dead body, corpse, dead person," from PIE *nek- "death, natural death" (cf. Sanskrit nasayati "disappears, perishes," Avestan nasayiti "disappears," nasa- "corpse," Old Persian vi-nathayati "he injures," Latin nex, genitive necis "violent death, murder" (as opposed to mors), nocere "to harm, hurt," noxius "harmful," Greek nekus "dead" (adj.), nekros "dead body, corpse;" Old Irish ec, Breton ankou, Welsh angau"death").

- night (n.): Old English niht (West Saxon neaht, Anglian nœht, neht) "night, darkness;" the vowel indicating that the modern word derives from oblique cases (genitive nihte, dative niht), from Proto-Germanic *nakh-t- (cf. Old Saxon and Old High German naht, Old Frisian and Dutch nacht, German Nacht, Old Norse natt, Gothic nahts).
The Germanic words are from PIE *nekʷt- "night" (cf. Greek νυκτός "a night," Latin nox, Old Irish nochd, Sanskrit naktaṃ "at night," Lithuanian naktis "night," Old Church Slavonic nosti, Russian noch', Welsh henod "tonight"), according to Watkins, probably from a verbal root *neg- "to be dark, be night."

deny (v.)

early 14c., from Old French dener "deny, repudiate, withhold," from Latin denegare "to deny, reject, refuse" (source of Italian dinegarre, Spanish denegar), from de- "away" (see de-)+ negare "refuse, say 'no,'" from Old Latin nec "not," from Italic base *nek- "not," from PIE root *ne- "no, not" (see un-). Related: Denied; denying.

neqan

to be lacking, or wanting.

neqāut

what is rubbed or ground down to powder, meal, fine flour.

B.D. 27, 1, 175, 25, foes crushed or beaten to death.

neqāu-hatu

B.D. 27, 1, the fiends who tore up hearts.

neq-t something crushed, meal, powder (?)

neqeb

Metternich Stele 6, to mourn, to be afflicted.

Neqem

Metternich Stele 3, to be afflicted, to mourn, to grieve, to lament.

neqmu

Mourners, afflicted ones.
As shown above, the whites and their offspring trace the terms necro, negro, night to the roots 'nekwt' and 'nek' yet are unsure of their etymological origins. This is because they have stolen terms which have no roots in their culture and then relabeled them as 'proto-indo-european'. The root of these terms can be found in Khanit and Kamit, predating the existence of europeans upon Asaase (Earth). The association of negro, necro, night, negative (neg- meaning not, no, lack) with nekwt and nek is rooted in the terms:

- neqan to be lacking, wanting (not having)
- nega lack, want
- neqn injury, affliction
- neqaut foes crushed or beaten to death

The related terms neqr, nuqr referencing sifting; dust, powder, what is sifted, etc. are related to that which is crushed, beaten, pounded. This is what happens in a negative sense to the body, corpse of a foe in Afurakani/Afuraitkaitnit (African) culture.

In a positive sense we do not crush, pound or cremate the body of the deceased. We engage the embalming and mummification process to preserve the body as an Ancestral shrine of the departed Ancestress or Ancestor. It is only in the negative sense that the body is treated otherwise, hence the related terms neqem and neqeb referencing mourning, afflicted, grieving and Neqaiu hatu – the fiends who tear up hearts in the spirit realm after the person died.

The loss of the heart was a grievous possibility in the spirit-realm, rendering the deceased spirit vulnerable to the attacks of other negative discarnate entities. This is why there are numerous chapters in the Ru Nu Pert em Hru (Book of Coming Forth by Day) wherein the individual invokes the Ntorou/Ntorotu (Deities) to not allow his or her heart to be taken away from him or her or destroyed/torn up.

However, in the culture of the whites and their offspring, cremation was/is a central feature of their funerary practices. The destruction of the body was not a desecration to them, but a common practice. Afurakanu/Afuraitkaitnut (Africans) always preserved the bodies of our deceased in sacred ceremonies, that they may become the most potent Ancestral shrines of the departed Honorable Ancestor or Ancestress for family members to communicate with at sacred burial sites during Ancestral observances. Since the whites and their offspring have no...
honorable ancestresses and ancestors, there was no ritual practice of preserving the melanin-recessive, perverse bodies of their deceased. They only began practicing embalming, mummification and elaborate burial practices after observing and imitating Afurakanu/Afuraitkaitnut (Africans).

Yet, because the whites and their offspring observed the sanctity of preserving the body, burial and Ancestral Communication amongst Afurakanu/Afuraitkaitnut (Africans) they always sought to desecrate the bodies of our deceased whenever they could during warfare, invasions, etc. They would also eventually use terms to identify us with the dead, negative, afflicted, crushed, etc. in a pejorative sense. This is the origin of the roots of terms such as neqaut being used in later European dialects to refer to Black people in general. Black used in the sense of negative, not, lacking light (therefore dark, black, gloomy), lacking life (dead), etc. [night, negro, necro, neg, naughty, etc.] The neqaut became the nekwt, nekus, nekros, necro, nigrum, niger, negre, negro, negroes, nigras, niggers, niggas, etc: ‘niggas’ are those who are crushed, beaten to death.

\[
\text{Neqaut – Nigga}
\]

This association of Black or Dark with death, lack, want, negative was utilized by the whites and their offspring in an attempt to demonize Afurakanu/Afuraitkaitnut (Africans). The same process undergirds their usage of the term ‘moor’ to refer to Black people in general as ‘dead’. [See our publication entitled: Moor Means ‘Dead’]

Afurakanu/Afuraitkaitnut (Africans) who have accepted the false concept of what a ‘God’ or ‘Goddess’ is from the whites and their offspring have been spiritually corrupted. The association of the Supreme Being with fictional white characters such as yeshua ben pandira, muhammed, abraham, isaac, ishmael, jacob, esau, moses, aaron, solomon, sheba, menelik, buddha, brahmin, yahweh, allah, etc. – none of whom existed of any race or in any form whatsoever – was/is designed to emotionally coerce Afurakanu/Afuraitkaitnut (Africans) to embrace self-hatred. Such self-hatred manifests in Afurakani/Afuraitkaitnit (African) people foolishly attempting to trace their lineage back to these fictional characters, blacken-up these fictional characters, insert themselves into non-existent ‘clans’ and ‘tribes’ of these fictional characters, etc. We thus have misguided individuals referring to themselves as hebrews, moors, muslims, christians, buddhists, taoists, hermeticists, yogis, nuwapians, five percenters, aboriginals, masons, children of mu, extraterrestrials, etc.

Such self-hatred also manifests in the insane quest of such individuals to embrace and/or manufacture contorted, absurd and totally inaccurate and baseless rationalizations to force ‘nigger’ or ‘nigga’ to mean something sacred or divine. Yet, internally, psychologically, these individuuls are actually seeking to hold on to the denigrating title given to them by the white slaver because they really accept it as their identity.

Another manifestation of this learned self-hatred is Black people referring to themselves as ‘god’. Because we have accepted a false definition of ‘God’ from the whites and their offspring and in turn have an inferior reflection of ourselves in relation to that false definition, we then compensate by attempting to de-inferiorize ourselves through claiming ‘the black man is god’ or ‘the black woman is god’. Black people who have low self-esteem seek to make themselves feel good by chanting such slogans to themselves, when in reality and internally they know it is nonsensical. They have taken on the perverse and imbalanced white male masculinist and white female feminist complexes of seeking to be superior to the other sex as well as to be superior to the ‘human being’ in general. Such Afurakani/Afuraitkaitnut (Africans) therefore cannot ‘settle’ for being a ‘human’, they must be ‘god’, ‘goddess’ or a ‘spiritual being having a human experience’. This foolish mindset bespeaks the lack of understanding of who they truly are as Afurakani/Afuraitkaitnit (African) people in relation to Amenet-Amen (Nyamewaa-Nyame), the actual Supreme Being - Goddess/God. It also betrays the deeply embedded self-hatred spawned by the perverse doctrines of the whites and their offspring.

When we understand the cosmological foundation of Abode (Creation) we recognize the reality that Amenet and Amen function as One Divine Unit – Two Complementary Halves of the Divine Whole. All created entities including plant life, animal life, mineral life and Afurakani/Afuraitkaitnit (African) human life (Afurakani/Afuraitkaitnit human life only) have a Divinely demarcated place and function (role) in the world.

Our value is encoded in the Divine Function that we have been given to execute as ‘cells’ within the Great Divine ‘Body’ of Amenet-Amen.

Just as your heart cells, liver cells, bone marrow cells, etc. each have their own value in the body, based on the functions within the organs’ system they are a part of and support, so is every Afurakani/Afuraitkaitnit (African) individual encoded with a Divine Function to execute in the world which is expressive of his or her value in the world as a ‘cell’ within the Great Divine ‘Body’ of Amenet-Amen. We are each given an Okra/Okraa (Ka/Kait; Ori Inu; Se Lido) which is encoded with this Divine Function. The Okra/Okraa is our Soul/Divine Consciousness – a Deity (Obosom, Orisha, Vodou, Ntoro/Ntorot) a Spirit-Force in Creation which dwells within our head-region and guides us throughout our lives. This is our conscious connection to Divinity, for our Okra/Okraa is a child of the Great Okra/Okraa (Ka/Kait - Soul/Divine Consciousness) of Amenet-Amen (Nyamewaa-Nyame).

Heart cells do not need to seek to be ‘the heart’ (organ) in order to feel better about themselves. Lung cells do not need to claim that they are ‘not really cells of the organ’ they are an ‘organ having a cellular experience’. They have no need to denigrate their function in the body in order to seek a ‘higher’ function. No cells need to claim that they are actually the ‘entire body’ (the Great Being) and not ‘merely’ a ‘cell’. Every cell has its place. Every organ has its place. The structure/place is Divinely designed. The same is true for Afurakanu/Afuraitkaitnut (Africans). Our function as human beings (the only true created human beings) in relation to plant life, animal life, mineral life and the Abosom (Deities) has value and is undergirded by Nyamewaa-Nyame Nhyehyee (Amenet-Amen Sekher) -The Supreme Being’s Order, Divine Order. We have no need to attempt to foolishly and pseudo-intellectually, step outside of our roles – which in reality we could never do anyway.

Pseudo-scholars, pseudo-metaphysicians, pseudo-traditional ‘spiritualists’, pseudo-conscious ‘culturalists’ and others in america, the west as well as in Afuraka/Afuraitkait (Africa) seek to take advantage of certain Afurakanu/Afuraitkaitnut (Africans) who are emotionally unstable as well as those Afurakanu/Afuraitkaitnut (Africans) who are simply ignorant to facts and are therefore misguided. Such parasitical pseudo-‘teachers’ seek financial gain, sexual favors, prestige as well as accolades from the whites and their offspring for working as their agents against the interests of the Afurakani/Afuraitkaitnit (African) community. Such parasites are easily exposed and dismissed for good with accurate information. The same is true for well-meaning, yet misinformed ‘scholars’, ‘teachers’ and ‘elders’.

Our connection as Afurakanu/Afuraitkaitnut (Africans) to Nyamewaa-Nyame/Amenet-Amen, Gagait Writ and Gangan Wr is written into our Okra/Okraa – pre-incarnation. We must take the responsibility to ground ourselves in reality based on this Divine connection. We consciously align with Gangan Wr and Gagait Writ, Amen and Amenet, by directly invoking Them and learning directly from Them.

We are not ‘god’. We do not have a need to be ‘god’. As Afurakanu/Afuraitkaitnut (Africans~Black People), we are nnipa – human beings, the only authentic human beings. Recognize your value as nnipa rooted in the reality of your function and your place in Abode (Creation). This is our exclusive inheritance as Afurakanu/Afuraitkaitnut (Africans).

©Copyright by Odwirafo Kwesi Ra Nehem Ptah Akhan, 13014 (2013).

www.odwirafo.com
See our publications referenced in the text:

Note on the Term Ngg Wr or Ngng Wr in Kamit – Ngg Ur is not ‘nigger’ – Part 1
www.odwirafo.com/Note_on_the_Term_Ngg-Wr_or_Ngng-Wr_in_Kamit_Ngg-Ur_is_not_nigger.pdf

NEHESU-NEGUS-NKOSO – Negus is Not ‘nigga’ www.odwirafo.com/Nehesu-Negus-Nkoso_Negus_is_not_nigga.pdf

NYANKOPON-NYANKONTON – RA-RAIT
www.odwirafo.com/Nyankopon_and_Nyankonton-Ra_and_Rait.pdf

The Origin of the Term Abosom in Kamit
www.odwirafo.com/The_Origin_of_the_Term_Abosom_in_Kamit.pdf

The Okra/Okraa Complex – The Soul of Akanfo
www.odwirafo.com/nhoma.html

AFURAKA/AFURAITKAIT – The Origin of the term ‘Africa’
www.odwirafo.com/Afuraka-Afuraitkait_Article_Nhomawaa_Nan.pdf

MOOR MEANS ‘DEAD’
www.odwirafo.com/Moor_means_Dead.pdf

KUKUU-TUNTUM – The Ancestral Jurisdiction
www.odwirafo.com/kukuutuntumpage.html

Language and Transliteration References:

Resource for Texts from Kamit: Coffin Texts, Pyramid Texts, Translations, Transliterations
www.pyramidtexts.online/tools.html

An Hieroglyphic Dictionary, Vols. 1 and 2, E.A. Wallis Budge
A Dictionary of the Asante and Fante language called Tshi (Chwee, Twi), J.G. Christaller
www.archive.org

Kasahorow Online, Promoting African Languages
www.kasahorow.org
NEHESU – NEGUS – NKOSO

Negus is not ‘nigga’

ODWIRAFO

www.odwirafo.com
In our publication: Akan – The People of Khanit we elucidated the etymological origin of the name Akan as a designation for the Akan ethnic group who live primarily in the West Afurakani/Afuraitkaitnit (African) countries of Ghana and Ivory Coast. There are many Akan in the western hemisphere as well, descendants of those who were enslaved as prisoners of war during the Mmusuo Kese (Great Perversity/Enslavement era). The root of the name Akan is kan, which in the Twi (Akan) language means: first, foremost as well as to count, to reckon, to calculate. The oral traditions of the Akan state that the reason that we refer to ourselves as Akan is because we are recognized to be a component part of the first people to exist in the world as well as the first people to engage in calculation (reckoning), which is the foundation of study, measurement, ritual and scientific inquiry and hence the capacity to replicate of the Order of Creation in the institutions of a social Order (civilization).
We showed that the root kan is derived from our Ancestral languages of Kamit and Khanit (Egypt and Nubia). A descriptive title of Nubia is Khnt (Khanat) from the root khn (khan). The term khan in the ancient language means first, foremost as well as to count, to reckon. The name Khanat or the Khanit land means the first land, south land, front land, land of origins, etc. The people of the Khanat or Khanit land are the Khanitu – the first people. This descriptive title of the first people of the original land Khanitu is still used by their descendants today – Akan or Akanni people. [See: www.odwirafo.com/Akanni_Khanit.pdf ]

A unique feature of Akan culture is the kradin concept. The term kradin is composed of Kra or Kraa (krah or krah’ah – also Okra/Okraa) meaning ‘Soul/Divine consciousness’ and din (deen) meaning ‘name’. The kradin is thus the ‘Soul’s name’. In Akan culture, we recognize that there are Abosom (Deities) that govern the solar, lunar and planetary bodies which govern the nnawotwe or 7-day inclusive week. The names of the seven days are based on the Abosom (Deities) Who govern the celestial body and hence the day. When an Akan person is born, the day upon which he or she is born is an indicator of which Obosom (Deity) he or she was assigned to in the spirit-realm prior to birth. He or she thus takes on a kradin, a soul-name, reflective of the Obosom Who governs the day as well as his or her Okra/Okraa (Soul). For example, the day called Benada is ‘tuesday’. In Akan it is the day (da) of the Obosom Bena. In Kamit the Obosom Bena is called Heru Behdet (Behdet, Behdat, Behda or Bena; Ogun in Yoruba). Males born on Bena da therefore automatically receive the name Kwabena meaning that they are a subject (kwa) of the Obosom Bena. This means that his Okra is aligned with and governed by this Divine Force in Creation.

In Akan culture the Female Obosom governing Fida (Friday) is the Obosom Afi also called Afua. She is the Female Obosom Who animates the planet Afi, called ‘venus’ in english. Her title Afi in Akan from the root Fi (fee) is derived from one of her descriptive titles in Kamit: Fait (fah-eet’). This is a title of Het Heru (Hathor). Afi (Het Heru, called Oshun in Yoruba) is the Obosom of beauty, song, art, dance, music, adornment, creativity, innovation, exploration, adventure, etc. She governs the sensual attraction which is the precursor to procreative activity and that which replenishes its harmony (pleasure). This is the foundation of creativity (procreativity) and thus she governs various expressions of creativity. Physiologically, Afi governs the reproductive system in the Afurakani/AFuraitkaitnit (African) body (fallopian tubes in the female, epididymis in the male) as well as the Divine

In Akan culture, all of the akradin (soul-names) have mmrane or praise names associated with them, which are expressive of different aspects of the Osobom as well as the nature of the Okra/Okraa (Soul) of the person who is born under that Osobom on that Osobom’s day. One of the mmrane or praise names for a Fida (Friday) – born female is Nkoso. This is also an mmrane for Af. Nkoso references that which is: splendid, grand, gorgeous, brilliantly adorned, etc. It also references progress, furtherance, success, prosperity. The verb ‘ko’ means ‘to go’ while ‘so’ means ‘up, above’ and also ‘upon’. The mmrane Nkoso thus references the nature of the energy-complex of Af and her children who ‘go above, upon, beyond’. They are adventurous, creative, innovative, artistic, wanderers, explorers, progressive (in the natural sense), prosperous, re-productive, furthering of the clan, people, progeny, etc.

The name vocalized as Nkoso (un-kaw-soh) as a title of Af (Het Heru) in Akan is the same title of Het Heru (Fait) in Kamit spelled N-h-s in the metutu (hieroglyphs):

!Image

The term nhs (spelled ‘nehes’ by egytologists because of uncertainty about the vocalization) meaning to be restless, to rouse oneself is an exact description of an Afua (child of Af) also called Nkoso in Akan culture. Children of Af are said to be restless wanderers, easily aroused (creatively/artistically or procreatively/sensually) and able to arouse or inspire others through art, song, dance, creativity, sensuality, etc. The ‘n’ in Nkoso is a nasal prefix. The same is true in the language of Kamit and Khanit. The ‘Sudani’ meaning ‘Khaniti’ title of Het Heru is Nhoso and the Akanni title of Het Heru is still Nkoso. The root is Koso in Akan, the vocalized version of Hs (Hos, Hoso written ‘hs’ or ‘hes’, ‘hesi’ by egytologists). Note the Coptic dialectical vocalization Copt. ᵃ㎛. [Hawc or Haws – Kos (Kaws) in Twi]
Heh-neb-Heh-ta, B.D. 64, 38, a god.

Heh, Shipwreck, 36, to strike; cut, to smite off, sword.

Hehui (?), the two ears; var. Hehui.

Hehes, a kind of bird.

Hes, Sisin, 20.

Hesi, to praise, to commend, to honour, do honour to, reward, recompense, remunerate, to requite, show favour to; sing or recite laudatory writings, praises, etc.; Copt. Ewc.

Hess, to praise, ascribe merit to, applaud.

Hessu, praises, hymns of praise, songs.

Hes-t, Hesu-t, one who is praised.

Hesi, Rec. 31, 166, P. 655, M. 760, IV, 944, 957, the praised one who praises those who are praised; Copt. Ewc.

Hesit, I, 139, a personal decoration or mark of favour.

Hesutá, P. 424, N. 1212, praised, renowned, famous; said of a weapon, “thou seest thy famous javelin.”

Hestá, Tombos Stele 10, will.

Hes, Hesi, to sing, to chant, to repeat laudatory compositions; Copt. Ewc.

Hesi, A.Z. 1966, 123, to sing to the accompaniment of an instrument.

Hes, Rev. 12, 32, song; Copt. Ewc.

Hes-t, chant.
As we can see, the root hs (koso in Twi) references those who are creative, singers, entertainers, splendid, approved by the Deity, lauded, celebrated, praised, honored, favored, decorated, etc. These are all attributes of Afi and children of Afi (Het Heru). We also see the reference to the Great Divine Cow of Heaven who supplied the blessed with milk. Het Heru as Fait is the Great Divine Cow and also the support of the western (amenti) Heaven:
Het Heru as the Divine Cow in the amenti (western region)

We also recall that Het Heru heals the eyes of Heru with milk when they were torn out during his fight with Set. This association is key, for Het Heru as a title means the ‘House of Heru’. Het Heru is the Queen Mother who nurtures (gestates) the King in her womb (het/house). Indeed, a title of Het Heru is Herit meaning ‘She Who is Above, Leader, Chieftainess’ while the male counterpart is Heri, ‘He who is above, Chief, King’. Het Heru is also called Nebt Pet (Nbt Pt) and Henut Ntorou Nebu (Hnwt Ntrw Nbw) meaning ‘Mistress of Heaven’ and ‘Queen of All of the Deities’.

This is the foundation of the root hs (koso) meaning the one ‘who is praised’, ‘renowned’, ‘blessed’, etc. in reference to royalty. The ancient title of Het Heru, Nhst (Nhosot), vocalized as Nkoso in Akan is the origin of the term Nagast and Nagas (Negusit and Negus) – an Ethiopian title descriptive of royalty as in to reign. This term was also used for Khanitu (Nubians/Ethiopians) by the Kamau in general:
The Nehesu are vocalized as the Negesu or Nagasu in Geez. Those who are first, foremost, from the land of the Ancestresses and Ancestors (first land, etc.). The Negus and Negusit (Nagas and Nagasit) are the Nehes and Nehesit – the first, head, leader, governor, governess, etc. They are those who are praised, adorned, etc. Just as the term ‘Nubia’ is derived from the term ‘nub’ in Kamit meaning ‘gold’ and thus the Nubitu or Nubians are the ‘golden’ people, adorned people, those worthy of praise, etc. so is the term Nehesu (Nkoso) representative of these characteristics.
Notice, however, that the egyptologists attempt to denigrate the name, for they desire to associate Black and Afurakani/Afuraitkaitnit (African) with ‘slave’ ‘negress’, etc. as a pejorative. Yet, even in their attempt to denigrate the character of the Afurakanu/Afuraitkaitnut (Africans) south of Kamit, the cosmology of the culture precludes them from doing so.

When the Nehesu are associated with ‘masturbation’, this is deliberately misrepresented by the whites and their offspring in order to associate Afurakau/Afuraitkaitnut (Africans) with sexual deviance. However, the reference to ‘masturbation’ is inaccurate.

When the Obosom/Deity Atem (Atum) in Kamit speaks of ‘having union with His clenched hand’ in order to create his Children, Shu and Tefnut, the ‘clenched hand’ he is speaking of is the Obosom/Deity Iusaaset Nebet Hetepet (Ausaaset called Asaase Afua in Akan). She is a wife of Atem who is also called the ‘Lady of the Vulva’ as well as the ‘Hand of the God’. The vagina was regarded as a ‘hand’ because of its function in the act of procreation. Just an Afurakani man today will call his wife his ‘right hand’, so did we refer to the ancient Goddess Mother as the ‘Hand of the God’. It demonstrates that the woman is an active participant in the procreative process as opposed to being merely an empty, passive vessel waiting for the male to fill her with his seed. The woman is magnetic, actively drawing the male to her. The vagina actively pulls the seed out of the male. The ovum actively pulls/draws, magnetically, the sperm to itself. On every level, the woman is as equally active as the male in the process.

[See: Asaase Afua and Asaaase Yaa: Earth Mother Abosom: www.youtube.com/odwirafo]

The notion of the Nkoso (Nehesu, Negesu, Negesut), Ethiopians/Nubians being associated with the ‘Hand of the God’ is once again associating them with an original (first) procreative function of Het Heru, who also operates as the ‘Hand of the God’. Het Heru, is Nehesit (Negusit, Nagast), Nkoso. As shown in our article on Afi, in Akan culture Afi is called Kyekye (Che-che), the evening star. The title Kyekye is the Akan variant of Het Her (Che-cher).

!Fait Het Heru Nhosot (Nhst) – Afì Kyekye Nkoso

39
While we can see the cosmological foundation for the term Nkoso (Nhosou) in Kamit and Akan in association with the Nubians/Ethiopians south of Kamit we must also recognize the political reality of the relationship between the Afurakanu/Afuraitkaitnut (Africans) of Kamit and Khanit during different times in trustory (true history). There were periods where they were allies, while during other periods they were adversaries. This is where the notion of the Nehesu being those who ‘mutter’ incantations, engage in negative forms of ‘witchcraft’, etc. derive from. The ritual practice of chanting, ritual song, ritual dance, spirit possession, etc. can be used for productive or non-productive purposes. While the Khanitu were known for having powerful ‘magic’ – ritual capabilities, during times of conflict this capacity was re-characterized as the Nubians/Ethiopians being ‘sorcerers’. The same dynamic exists today amongst various Afurakani/Afuraitkaitnit (African) groups. Some ethnic groups regard their neighbors as steeped in sorcery and characterize them as spiritual criminals not to be trusted. There are some Akan for example who label the neighboring and related Nzema people in this fashion.

From the text of Khaemwaset and Sa Ausar (Khamwas and Si-Osiri):

“…Said the other of them after saying: ‘Let Amen not find for me misfortune nor the Kwr of Kamit cause abomination to be done to me: I would cast my magic up to Kamit that I might cause the Per Aa of Kamit to be brought to the land of Nehes, and cause him to be beaten with a scourging, 500 blows of the stick in the midst before the Viceroy, and cause him to be brought back up to Kamit in six hours precisely.’

When the viceroy heard what the three men of Ethiopia had said, he ordered them to be brought before him. He said to them: ‘Who of you is he that said, “I will cast my magic up to Kamit, I will not allow them to see light in three days (and) three nights”? They said: ‘It is Heru, the son of the Sow.’

Said he: ‘Who is he that said, “I will cast my magic up to Kamit, I will bring Per Aa to the land of Nehes, I will cause him to be beaten with a scourging, 500 blows of the stick in the midst of the Viceroy, I will cause him to be taken back to Kamit in six hours precisely”? They said: ‘It is Heru, the son of the Nehesit.’

As we can see, there are political reasons why the Nehesu (Nkoso) at certain times were labeled as ‘sorcerers’ in Kamit. The term hos (hes, hesi-koso) referencing ritual practices are therefore selectively given a pejorative connotation at times when referencing the Khanitu.

The cosmology of Khanit and Kamit and its continuum in Akan culture today is the infrastructure which gave birth to the term Nhsu (Nkoso) as a title of Het Heru, Her Divine function in Creation, Her association with royalty (House of Heru – the King; Herit – Queen) and more. Nehes, Nhsu, vocalized as Nkoso in Akan is the origin of Negus, Nagas etc. The root hs, hsu (koso) is clearly not the word ‘nigger’ or ‘naga’. For details about the actual etymology of the word ‘naga’ being derived from a title of Ra (Ra Akh, Da Akh, Na Akh) see our publication: Nyankopon-Nyankonton – Ra-Rait. For details about the term Ngg Wr or Ngg Ur from Kamit which is not the origin of ‘nigger’ see our publication: Note on the Term Ngg Wr or Ngng Wr in Kamit – Ngg Ur is Not ‘nigger’. For accurate information about proper notions of identity see our publication: AFURAKA/AFURAITKAIT – The Origin of ther term ‘Africa’. Also see our publication: MOOR MEANS ‘DEAD’ for accurate information about the origin of the term ‘moor’, which is actually a pejorative term for our people used by the whites and their offspring. Download these articles from our links below.

©Copyright by Odwirafo Kwesi Ra Nehem Ptah Akhan, 13014 (2013).

www.odwirafo.com
Appendix

[Excerpt from pages 19-23 of our publication: NYANKOPON-NYANKONTON – RA-RAIT]

RA AAKHU – NANKA

The name O-nanka as a title for the Creator in the form of a snake becoming O-danga or E-danga is derived from a title of Ra. In the Book of the Heavenly Cow, found in the tombs of Tut Ankh Amen, Seti and Ramessu, we find that Ra is referred to as Ra Aakhu. The metutu are:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Ra</th>
<th>Aakhu</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>

“Whoever says these words works his own protection by means of the words of power, ‘I am the Deity Heka and I am pure in my mouth and in my body. I am Ra from whom the Deities proceeded. I am Ra Aakhu.’ When you say this, step forth in the evening and in the morning on your own behalf, if you would make to fall the enemies of Ra.”

[Book of the Cow of Heaven – Tomb of Seti]

Ra Aakhu is defined as Ra operating as Aakhu, the Light/Fire. Aakhu and Aakhut are also written Aakh and Aakht. Different aspects of the term Aakhu or Aakh:

áakhu
- L. D. III, 14oc, N. 132, 124, 171, T. 292,
- P. 2, 399, Rec. 31, 17,
- shine, to be bright, fine, splendid, glorious, excellent, good, to be useful, to recite formulae.
The terms Aakh or Aakhu and Aakht or Aakhut thus reference Fire, Light, brilliance, radiance, the Aten (Sun) as well as the fiery Serpent on the Royal Crown.

Ra Aakhu is Raakhu, Raako, Daako, Danko, Dango, Nanko Nyanko
Ra Aakh is Raakh, Raakha, Daaka, Danka, Danga, Nanka Nyanka

Recall that in Akan culture, the birth-place-name for the second child born after twins can be written Nyankomago or Nyankamago. The ‘A’ and ‘O’ are used interchangeably. Note also that Da in Vodoun is also commonly written and pronounced Dan. The ‘A’ in Da is nasal, thus sounding like Dan (Dah-ng) when enunciated, similar to the ‘N’ in the word senior. This nasal ‘A’ is derived from a pronunciation of the name Ra. In the metutu when the name Ra is spelled out we have:

!Image of metatu

The metut is the character for the letter ‘R’. The metut is the character for the letter ‘A’. The other two metut, the serpent surmounting the Aten (Sun) and the mummified, seated figure are determinatives. They are not read or enunciated. They are markers, indicators that this word ‘ra’ refers to the serpent around the Aten who is an Obosom (Deity - the mummified figure denotes Divinity/sacredness).

There are three different metutu for the ‘A’ sound in Kamit. The metut of a forearm and open hand with palm turned upward for the letter ‘A’ is sometimes written in the Coptic dialect (Late Kamit dialect) as ‘AW’. Thus, the ‘A’ in Ra could be thus be pronounced like the ‘AWNG’ in the english word ‘wrong’ and taking on a nasal tone. Ra Aakhu would thus be pronounced like rawn-ah-ko. The difference between pronouncing Ra and Ra with a nasal tone is [rah] and [rawn or rah-oong]. This is also the difference between the Vodoun versions Da and Dan (Dah-ng) The pronunciation dah-ng sounds like dah-oong. This is the same as O-Dang-a and E-Dang-a. It is also Nanka (Nah-ng-a). Just as some Afurakanu/Afuraitkaitnut speaking the Fon language pronounce Da with a nasal ‘N’ - Dan (dahng) today, so did some Afurakanu/Afuraitkaitnut in Kamit pronounce Ra with a nasal ‘N’ in ancient times. Ra-Aakhu or Ra[wn]-Aakhu thus became Ra[ng]-Aakhu, Daankhu, Daanko, Danga, Naanko and Nanka.

Note: The Ebric people, another Akan sub-group in Cote de’ Ivoire, call the Creator Nyangka or Nyanka. This fact in relation to the forms Ananga-man, Odanga and Edanga proves that the Nyanko or Nyanka component of Nyankopon and Nyankonton is a dialectical variant of Nanka.

Circular serpent pendant, manifestation of Nyangka, from the Ebric Akan of Cote de’ Ivoire Ra Aakhu or Ra Aakh, the fiery Circular Serpent (cobra) as Da Aakh, Na aakh, is found in the ancient temple of Naga in Khanit (Sudan, Nubia). Moreover, some of the Afurakanu/Afuraitkaitnut of ancient Khanit (Nubia) migrated east and settled India over ten thousand years ago. This is why the term Naga (also written Naya, Naka) is a name of the Divine Cobra in different parts of pre-aryan (pre-white) India. When the whites and their offspring began to invade India approximately 4,000 years ago they came into contact with the indigenous Afurakanu/Afuraitkaitnut – the descendants of the Afurakani/Afuraitkaitnit migrants from Khanit. The false religions of Hinduism and Buddhism would later incorporate and corrupt the meaning and function of the Naga. The Naga in Black India, Naga in Khanit (Nubia) is the same Nanka in Akan. They all derive from Ra Aakha and Rat Aakhat or Ra Aakhu and Rait Aakhut.

Ra and Lion-headed Obosom Apedemak from the Temple in Naga – ancient Khanit (Nubia)

In the first two of the three spellings of the name Rat (raht) above the metut is the letter ‘R’, the metut is the letter ‘A’ the metut is the letter ‘T’. The metut of an egg is a determinative Referencing female. The seated female figure is also a determinative indicating female. In the second variation we simply have the circular serpent for Ra, the ‘T’ metut and the egg symbol denoting Rat (female). In the third variation we have the circular serpent, the ‘T’ and the large cobra: [image]. This cobra metut is a determinative metut. It means Female Deity (Goddess). These variations are of the name Rat. We also have variations of the name when pronounced Rait (rah-ette’):

![RAIT]

The three variations of the name Rait above include the metut for the ‘I’ [image]. The second and third variations of the name Rait above include another version of the raised cobra denoting Female Divinity: [image]. Note that this is the same determinative found in the term aakhut or aakht the fiery serpent on the royal crown. [image] This term aakhut not only references different Abosom (Deities) Who have the title “Eye of Ra”, such as Uatchet, but also references Rait as the Original Ancestral Female Creatress. Rait is the Progenitress Serpent Obosom (Deity) from Whom all other Female Abosom Who carry that energy and title descend. The above also is a reference to the feminine title Rait Aakhut or Rat Aakht, the female Nanka or Naga.
All of the e-book versions of our publications including our books and research articles are free downloads. Our videos, audio podcasts as well as our workshops and services are also free. See a partial list of our publications below. If the information has been beneficial for you, consider making akyede (donation) in support of our research. Yeda ase, we thank you, for your support: www.odwirafo.com/akyedepage.html

AFURAKA/AFURAITKAIT – The Origin of the term ‘Africa’ – Parts 1-4
KUKUU-TUNTUM - The Ancestral Jurisdiction
UBEN-HYENG - The Ancestral Summons
UAB-ODWIRA - Pa Nsaman Atemmu
PTAH SASETEM
MATE MASIE – The Ancestorhood of Nana Yao (Dr. Bobby E. Wright)
OBARIMA – Afurakani Manhood
THE OKRA/OKRAA COMPLEX - The Soul of Akanfo
AKAN - The People of Khanit (Akan Land - Ancient Nubia/Sudan)
The Origin of the Term Abosom in Kamit
The Origin of the Term Nsamanfo in Kamit
Origin of the Name Aakhuamu (Akwamu) in Kamit
NKOMMERE – Ancestral Shrine Communication
NSAMANKOMMERE – Ancestral Shrines in Kamit
NSAMANKOM and the Seven Senses
AKRADINBOSOM - The Abosom [Deities] of the Okra/Okraa and the Akan 7-Day Week
AKANFO NANASOM – Ancient Authentic Akan Ancestral Religion
ADEBISA – Akan Divination in America
Note on the Origin of the Name Nyame in Ancient Khanit and Kamit
NYANKOPON and NYANKONTON - RA and RAIT
ODOMANKOMA - ATMU KHOPA
TWEREDUAMPON - KHERER RA
Akan Origin of the Term Hoodoo
Asuo Gyebi, Akonnedi Abena, Adade Kofi and Tegare are Not Abosom
Abosom Do Not Ask For Money
AMANEHUNU - Overcoming Transcarnational Suffering
ANKH – The Origin of the term ‘Yoga’
KARA-KASA – The Origin and Nature of the ‘Chakra’
ANKHUT – Original Terms from Kamit
KOKOBO
--Instruction 35 of Ptah Hetep - Proper Translation of Pre-Pubescent Sexual Taboo
--Divine Prohibition Against dissexuality/homosexuality in Ancient Kamit
--Note on Ni Ankh Khnum and Khnum Hotep - Identical Twins - Not dissexual/homosexual
--SET and ANAT: The Dating of 'The Contendings of Heru and Set' - dissexuality/homosexuality was Never Accepted in Kamit

UR, EL and JEZREEL – Israel Does Not Exist Upon the Mer en Ptah Stele
KAM UR – KAMIT URT – Ausar, Auset and the Enslavement and Restoration of the Afurakani/Afuraitkaitnit (African) in Amenti – The West